Keep with next test This test checks that when a title is not left orphaned at the bottom of a page.

This is not very close to the bottom, so there's room for the "Another title" and "A subsection" left on the page, but not enough to also include the sentence of content.

Another title

A subsection

The content should be in the same page as the title.

This is not very close to the bottom Third title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title

The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title The content should be in the same page as the title

The content should be in the same page as the title